

Confronting Uncertainty: Project Risk Management

PMPs: Have You Fulfilled Your Continuing Certification Requirements?

In order to maintain their credential, every PMP must be dedicated to ongoing learning and development. This means earning 60 PDUs from continuing education efforts within a 3-year cycle.

With mScholar's independent study courses, PMPs can work towards fulfilling their continuing certification requirements with no travel and little time away from project work.

mScholar currently offers 3 self-paced study courses on project risk management, project control and project leadership. To learn more, contact us at 978-824-0400, ext. 107 or visit our website, www.mscholar.com.

Program Overview

Level: Intermediate
Format: Self-Paced
PDUs/Contact Hours: 18

This self-paced course provides practical techniques and tools for getting your entire project team risk-focused and defines realistic strategies for handling different types of project risks. You will learn effective ways to address risk impacts and alternatives with senior managers in order to gain commitment in executing your risk management plan.

In addition, the appendix is filled with templates, resources, samples and module-based questions to test your knowledge of the material.

What's Included

The complete self study course kit includes a comprehensive risk management workbook, study guides and course map. The workbook contains dedicated exercise modules and quizzes, as well as an abundance of templates, process maps and worksheets to use in your day-to-day application of risk management.

Students will also have access to the mScholar Online Student Center, where they can ask questions of a certified PMP.

All mScholar self-paced courses conclude with a final exam. Upon a successful passing score of 70 or higher, students will be awarded 18 PDUs.
